

From: QueenOFtheTigers@aol.com@inetgw
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/27/02 11:53pm
Subject: hi

I feel that what microsoft is doing is wrong. Why should that company be able to have the power to avoid sharing their product with other companies so they can also develop similar software. Just because microsoft is a big and powerful company doesnt mean they have the right to peform monopoly. If other companies can not then why should microsoft have the right to. Also the fact that they are denying that they have and its taking so long for the courts to press charges on them is wrong. If it were another company that was not as popular they would have been out of buisness.

from, chrystal torres

CC: queenofthetigers@aol.com@inetgw